

the white winged dove

It has bold, white wing patches. Its bill is medium sized, slender, carved and gray. It makes a harsh cooing, "who cooks for you?" sound.

The white-winged dove lives in saguaros, deserts, towns and dry woods. It can be found in the United States including Arizona. They like to live in dry, warm places.

It eats seeds, grain, fruits and insects. It lays pale buff colored eggs. It's nest is a flimsy twig platform in a tree or thicket.

It builds a flimsy stick nest. It has also been introduced to Florida. Its flight is fast and direct. It can be a pest to farmer's crops.
