

The story happened in a cave. When he was in the cave he saw a bear. He bit it.

The problem was that he always haunted a house everyday even when its night time. He does it most when it is night time.

The problem was solved because everyone got mad at him. So then he thought he should stop doing it.

